Get to know AKUBAI

Ningamai Akubai Nnam épouse Abang better known by her stage name AkuBai is a Cameroonian contemporary gospel artist with the vision of impacting humanity and touching souls through music.

Her chosen stage name, AkuBai, means "owned by God" in her traditional dialect. She is signed to the Niki Heat Entertainment record label.

BIOGRAPHY

AkuBai was born in Wum, Northwest Region to a large family of ten. Her father was a teacher and her mother a housewife who also engaged in farming and petty trades to help provide for the family.

She is today an ordained minister of the Gospel, a wife and mother of two little girls and committed to transforming lives and restoring hope. She holds a Bachelor's degree in Performing Arts and Cinematography from the University of Yaoundé I and is currently rounding up her Master's degree program in International Development. She doubles as CEO of Impact Makers for Humanity, a non-governmental organization with a mission to build competencies for sustainable development and extend compassionate support to vulnerable communities. Singing to her is a means of rendering further Service to God and Humanity.
